

FOR DISTRICTS

How Fullmind works with districts

Fullmind brings live, certified teachers into your classrooms to fill vacancies, extend special education capacity and keep students learning. Your district decides whether educators teach your curriculum or curate instructional materials based on state standards and student needs.

Live, certified teachers

Every teacher holds the state certification for the subject and grade they teach, and teaches in real time.

Support for every learner

Educators support all learners, including students with IEPs and 504 plans, in any format.

Your curriculum, or ours

You choose: your district's curriculum, or materials our educators curate to state standards.

Fast to launch

Programs typically launch in under two weeks, including onboarding and rostering.

Progress you can see

Attendance documented to the minute, with regular progress reporting to your team.

Safe and secure

Background-checked educators, secure and recorded sessions, and FERPA data protection.

FLEXIBLE DELIVERY MODELS

Choose the model that fits your students

1:1Individualized

One student, one certified teacher, for needs like homebound instruction or intensive credit recovery.

Small groupTargeted support

Targeted review and skill-building, with room for every student to take part.

Full classCore and credit-bearing

A full live class for core, elective or credit-bearing courses, with an on-site facilitator.

When: during the school day or after school. Where: at school, at home or wherever students are staying.

COMMON QUESTIONS

What districts ask us

Are your teachers certified in our state?

Yes. Every teacher is certified for the subject, grade and state they teach.

Who supervises the classroom?

For classes at school, an on-site facilitator stays in the room while the Fullmind teacher leads instruction live.

What happens if a teacher is absent?

Another certified Fullmind educator covers the session, so instruction continues.

How is student data protected?

A secure, recorded platform and FERPA data protection, with all communication kept inside it.

WHAT YOUR DISTRICT PROVIDES

- Your priorities, goals and the students to be served
- An on-site facilitator for classes held at school, when applicable
